Singapore is committed to the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development. Sustainable development has underpinned Singapore's policy making since our independence, for example in prudent management of scarce resources like water and energy.

Singapore adopts a multi-faceted, multi-stakeholder approach to implementing the SDGs. We have established an inter-ministry committee on SDGs (IMC-SDG) for our Voluntary National Review (VNR) and to take stock of SDG implementation over the longer term. Our IMC-SDG also serves as the reporting platform for SDG data and stakeholder engagement. We support the declaration on "navigating policy with data to leave no one behind".
