

Asia-Pacific Sustainable Development Journal

About the Journal

The Asia-Pacific Sustainable Development Journal (APSDJ) aims to stimulate debate and enrich research in the formulation of policy in the Asia-Pacific region towards the fulfilment of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development.

Published biannually, APSDJ is a rebranded journal of the United Nations Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific (ESCAP). It builds on the success of two former ESCAP journals – the Asia-Pacific Population Journal, launched in 1986, and the Asia-Pacific Development Journal, launched in 1994. These journals are being merged in recognition of the interconnected and multidisciplinary nature of sustainable development.

Submission of Articles

APSDJ invites you to submit original contributions on themes and issues related to sustainable development that are policy-oriented and relevant to Asia and the Pacific. Articles should aim to discuss challenges pertinent to one or more dimensions of sustainable development, policy options and implications and/or policy experiences that may be of benefit to the region.

APSDJ encourages authors familiar with the Asia-Pacific region to submit their work.

All manuscripts should be in English, and will undergo a rigorous double-blind peer-review process.

Editorial Advisory Board

- * Prof. Kaushik Basu (Cornell University) * Prof. Martin Ravallion (Georgetown University)
- * Prof. Sabina Alkire (Oxford University) * Prof. Naila Kabeer (London School of Economics)
- * Prof. Li Xiaoyun (Poverty Reduction Centre China) * Prof. Shigeo Katsu (Nazarbayev University)
- * Prof. Ehtisham Ahmad (London School of Economics) * Prof. Myrna S. Austria (De La Salle University)

Chief Editors

Srinivas Tata, Social Development Division (SDD) of UNESCAP

Hamza Ali Malik, Macroeconomic Policy and Financing for Development Division (MPFD) of UNESCAP

Editorial Board

Sabine Henning, Cai Cai, Patrik Andersson (SDD); Oliver Paddison, Sweta Saxena and Tientip Subhanij (MPFD)

For more information, please contact escap-apsdj@un.org.

Asia-Pacific Sustainable Development Journal

Submission Guidelines

1. Manuscripts

Original contributions are invited, especially papers related to sustainable development that are policy-oriented and relevant to Asia and the Pacific. Articles should aim to discuss challenges pertinent to one or more dimensions of sustainable development, policy options and implications, and/or policy experiences that may be of benefit to the region.

All material submitted for the consideration of the Editorial Board should be in English. The manuscripts should be typed, double-spaced, on one side of white A4 paper. Manuscripts should not exceed 8,000 words, including tables, figures, references and other materials. Manuscripts should include a short abstract (200 words) of the issues addressed and the most important policy-related findings.

Manuscripts are accepted on the understanding that they may be edited. Contributors are required to sign a consent form verifying that their articles are original and have not been published in any other publications or refereed Journal(s).

All manuscripts will be submitted to double-blind peer review by professionals in the field. The name(s) of the author(s) or other identifying information should therefore be placed only on the title page in order to preserve anonymity. The title page should also include information such as institutional affiliation(s), complete mailing address, telephone number, e-mail of the author(s).

2. Tables and Figures

All tables and figures should be numbered consecutively with Arabic numbers. Each table should be typed double-spaced. Tables and figures should be planned to fit the proportions of the printed page. Full information on the source(s) should appear below the table/figure, followed by notes, if any, in lower-case letters.

Once a manuscript is accepted for publication, the author(s) will be asked to supply figures, tables and charts, preferably in Microsoft Excel or any major spreadsheet program.

3. Footnotes and Quotations

Footnotes, if any, should be numbered consecutively with superscript Arabic numerals. They should be typed single-spaced and placed at the bottom of each page. Footnotes should not be used solely for citing references.

Quotations should be double-spaced. A copy of the page(s) of the original source of the quotation, as well as a copy of the cover page of that source, should be provided.

4. References

Authors should ensure that there is a complete reference for every citation in the text. References in the text should follow the author-date format, followed, if necessary, by page numbers, for example Becker (1964, pp. 13-24). List only those references that are actually cited in the text or footnotes. References, listed alphabetically, should be typed double-spaced on a separate page in the following style:

Sen, Amartya (2009). The Idea of Justice. Cambridge, Mass: Harvard University Press.

Husseini, Rana (2007). Women leaders attempt to bridge East-West cultural divide. Jordan Times, 9 May.

Krueger, Alan B., and Lawrence H. Summers (1987). Reflections on the inter-industry wage structure. In Unemployment and the Structure of Labour Markets, Kevin Lang and Jonathan S. Leonard, eds. London: Basis Blackwell.

Manuscripts should be sent by e-mail to the Chief Editors of APSDJ at escap-apsdj@un.org.